2022-23 Fargo Public Schools Calendar

Fargo Public Schools (FPS) has released the District's 2022-23 school calendar, which is now available at this link on the FPS website. The calendar was developed by the District's Calendar Committee which is comprised of seventeen members including teachers, parents, principals, students, district office representatives, a Fargo Education Association teacher representative, a support staff member, and a school board member. The development of the calendar was part of multiple committee meeting agendas.

The 2022-23 calendar was developed after reviewing the community survey (link to survey results) which was disseminated for input earlier this winter. Considerations also included previous calendars, North Dakota State Statutes, the current teachers negotiated contract, and the proposed co-curricular schedule. In the community survey, the Calendar Committee asked when families and staff members preferred to start and end school, as well as if they would like a full week of spring break.

The Calendar Committee came to consensus on the 2022-23 school calendar at its April 6 meeting. The calendar was then shared with the presidents of the Parent Teacher Associations/Parent Teacher Organizations at each school via email. A Zoom meeting was also conducted to review the calendar and to answer any questions. Finally, the calendar was presented to the Fargo Board of Education and approved at the April 27, 2021 School Board Meeting.

Thank you to all the members of the Calendar Committee for their work on the 2022-23 School Calendar.
