The students have invited family members to view writing projects and listen to selected readings from some of the writing assignments the students have completed throughout the 2018–19 school year.

Students will share samples of their writing, such as memory books, Growth Mindset books, birthday books, President Research, Quote of the Week books, Veterans Day writing projects, Thanksgiving books, personal narratives, and a compliment sharing assignment.

Class character awards will also be presented by the teachers to the students at the conclusion of Author Day activities.
